

Privacy Policy

This privacy statement outlines the privacy practices associated with the website <https://magicsticktv.com/>. It is specifically applicable to information gathered exclusively through this website and serves to inform you of the following:

- The nature of personally identifiable information collected from you via the website, its purpose, and the parties with whom it may be shared.
- The choices available to you regarding the utilization of your data.
- The security measures in place to safeguard against the misuse of your information.
- Procedures for correcting any inaccuracies in the information collected.

Information Collection, Utilization, and Sharing

We are the exclusive proprietors of the information amassed on this website. We solely obtain information that you willingly provide to us through email or direct contact. Under no circumstances will we sell or lease this information to any third party.

We will utilize your information to respond to your inquiries and requests. Your information will not be shared with external parties, except when necessary to fulfill your specific request or inquiry.

Unless otherwise specified by you, we may contact you via email in the future to update you on new products or services, or to communicate changes to this privacy policy.

Your Access and Control Over Information

You retain the right to opt-out of any future communications from us. You can exercise the following actions at any time by reaching out to us through the contact form or the phone number provided on our website:

- Review the data we have collected about you.
- Rectify or update any inaccuracies in your data.
- Request the deletion of any information we have about you.
- Express any concerns regarding our use of your data.

Security

We take precautionary measures to ensure the protection of your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, it is safeguarded both online and offline.

Any sensitive information, such as employment or ecommerce data, is encrypted and securely transmitted. You can verify this through the presence of a lock icon in the address bar and the use of "https" at the beginning of the web page address.

While encryption is employed for online data transmission, offline protection is also implemented. Only employees with specific job responsibilities (e.g., billing or customer service) have access to personally identifiable information. The servers housing this information are kept in a secure environment and are not connected to the server hosting our website.

If you believe that we are not adhering to this privacy policy, please contact us promptly via telephone at 888-360-9394 or through the contact form provided on our website.
